

Family and Domestic Violence Policy

Aurora Retail Energy · Rev 2 · Effective 30 June 2026

1 • Commitment

1.1 We recognise family and domestic violence as a potential cause of payment difficulty and of risk to personal safety, and we train our people to respond safely.

Training on this document is mandatory for all customer-facing staff and is refreshed annually. Completion is recorded in the learning management system and reported to the compliance committee quarterly.

2 • Safe engagement

2.1 Where an account carries a sensitive customer marker, all contact must follow the customer's recorded safe contact preferences, and account information must never be disclosed to another party regardless of their claimed relationship to the customer.

2.2 Affected customers must not be required to provide evidence of their circumstances more than once.

Where a customer cannot be reached after two attempts on their preferred channel, the account is referred to the specialist team for alternative contact before any further action is taken.

3 • Debt and disconnection

3.1 Disconnection must not be used as a means of recovering debt from a customer affected by family violence, and any de-energisation process in flight must be halted when a marker is identified.

3.2 Debt recovery action is paused while safety concerns are being assessed.

Nothing in this document limits a customer's rights under the National Energy Retail Law, the National Energy Retail Rules, or any applicable state instrument. Where this document conflicts with a regulatory obligation, the obligation prevails.
